

TABLE 16
Instructions for Applying New and Old Permanent Disability
Benefit Rates to Table 17

1. If the date of injury is 1991 or later and the percent of disability is 25 or larger, use the 1991 or 1992 portion of Table 17 which gives a higher maximum and in 1992, a greater number of weeks. If the percent of disability is under 25 for injuries 1991 and thereafter, use the second column from the left, next to the percent of disability.
2. If injury occurred in 1983, the maximum is $130/week and the minimum is $50/week. To calculate the amount owed for a given percent of permanent disability, multiply the number of weeks given in the second column from the left (next to the % of P.D.) by the weekly rate.
3. If the date of injury is from 1-1-77 to 12-31-82, the maximum is $70/week and the minimum $30/week. From 4-1-72 to 12-31-76 the maximum was also $70/week, but the minimum was $20/week. To calculate the amount owed for a given percent of permanent disability, multiply the number of weeks given in the second column from the left (next to the % of P.D.)
4. Note: Whenever the P.D. rate is less than $70 (1983 and prior) and the percent of disability is 29½ or less, compare with pre-1972 rates which were 4 weeks for each percent of P.D., but with a maximum of $52.50. The higher benefit applies.
5. Permanent Disability rates are subject the maximum/minimum values in effect on the date of injury. To obtain the Permanent Disability indemnity benefit rate on a calculator, enter earnings × 2 ÷ 3 = or multiply by .66667, e.g.,

$$125.00 \times 2 \div 3 = $83.33$  or  $$125.00 \times 0.66667 = $83.33$

Summary: Permanent Disability Max/Min Rates
